UDIA (SA) CEO Pat Gerace said the major award winners have been recommended for judging at the National UDIA Awards for Excellence to be announced at the UDIA National Congress in Perth in April next year.

“The development industry is the fifth largest contributor to output in SA, so its importance to our economy is undeniable. These awards provide a great opportunity to acknowledge the high-performing companies behind the state’s most outstanding development projects,” said Mr Gerace.

“The standard of entries received for the UDIA awards has always been extremely high and this year was no different with projects that showcase best practice in urban development in SA.”

ABOUT THE UDIA - Established in 1971, the UDIA (SA) represents the interests of the development industry in South Australia in collaboration with all levels of government. It represents all sections of the urban development sector, including developers, councils and service providers such as engineers, planners and surveyors.
