

IMMEDIATE RELEASE

UDIA National Congress brings global industry leaders to Australia

UDIA National Congress is securing a number of global industry leaders to share their knowledge and ideas for the future. Key note addresses will provide insight at an international level in regard to the latest in planning, design and technology.

The 2017 Congress presents delegates with a unique opportunity to learn from international and Australian leaders about the future of urban development and city building.

This National Congress has been designed to highlight these disruptions and will take hundreds of Congress delegates on a thought-provoking journey into how technology, transportation, urban infrastructure and social trends are going to shape the way cities develop in the future.

It will illuminate the importance of today's thinking in realising the cities and towns of tomorrow and is a chance for participants to hear presentations from a range of experts from development related fields, about where the industry should be investing now, to ensure that we have the places we need in the future.

With the introduction of a new program structure this year, which includes a series of concurrent sessions, you have the ability to tailor your program and ensure you learn about the topics of most interest to you. There are also several exciting study tours and social functions available, providing many opportunities for you to network with colleagues in the industry.

Click here for more information and to register.

ABOUT THE UDIA - Established in 1971, the UDIA (SA) represents the interests of the development industry in South Australia in collaboration with all levels of government. It represents all sections of the urban development sector, including developers, councils and service providers such as engineers, planners and surveyors.

---